

40th Anniversary of JCAC

2012 is an exciting year for The Johnston County Arts Council! This year marks the 40th year existence of an organized group of people interested in seeing the promotion of the Arts in Johnston County. We will be honoring this year with a wealth of ongoing programs celebrating the arts in Johnston County. Since its founding in 1972, the Johnston County Arts Council has served as the officially designated private, nonprofit arts agency for the county. Its purpose is to provide financial assistance for Johnston County Arts Organizations and artists. Additionally, it supports and administers the county's "Artists-in-the-Schools" education program for the public schools. The Johnston County Arts Council has chosen "Arts for the People, People for the Arts" as its motto because of its dedication to promoting conditions in which the arts can thrive and be enjoyed by all.
